

Life is a gay cabaret during Pride Month: Ladies nights

Written by Richard Dodds
BARstage@comcast.net
06/03/2010

The Off-Market Theatre's City Solo program that features rotating casts of solo performers will give over three Sundays in June to a quartet of very different lesbian voices in anticipation of Pride 2010.

In My Diary, No Grownups Allowed!, Janine Brito shares stories from the tumultuous (for her) mid-1990s. Julia Jackson rides the rollercoaster world of adoption in I Didn't Sign Up for This! Gaye than a rainbow-farting unicorn, Thao P. Nguyen can't quite get her parents' attention in I Am Sooooo Gay. Martha Rynberg's Lady Parts is not really a vagina monologue, but rather a circuitous look at hair removal, bullet wounds, tiny breasts, and her mom's thighs.

From the City Solo program at the Off-Market Theatre, Thao P. Nguyen is one of four lesbian solo performers on a Pride Month bill.
Photo: Beth Allen

This bill of four short pieces will be performed at 7 p.m. on June 6, 13, and 20. Ticket info is at (800) 838-3006 or www.cafearts.com/offmarket.php

http://www.ebar.com/arts/art_article.php?sec=theatre&article=627
